DIVISION OF COMMUNICATION FONDS. --1926-2016, predominantly 1968-2002. --ca. 65.17 m of textual material; --11391 photographs and negatives; --16 photo albums; --40 microfilm reels; --1504 film reels; --143 video tapes; --1419 audio reels; --761 audio tapes; --13 vinyl records; --1 floppy disc; --1 diskette.

The Division of Communication was formed in 1968 resulting from studies, consultations and debates cumulating in the amalgamation of the former Board of Information and Stewardship and the former Board of Publication. The original mission was to promote the Christian gospel as well as the work and life of the Church to church members and the public utilizing contemporary media. As a result of General Council restructuring, the Division became the Resource Production and Distribution Unit in 2002. The Unit had a similar mandate to its predecessor: to support General Council Office presentation of the United Church to the public through appropriate media; respond to the needs of congregations and partners for resources of various media; and provide effective distribution. However under this new division, aspects of work moved to the General Council Support and Services Unit: Staff members from the area of information services and media relations moved there and General Council Ministers had the responsibility for development of an overall communication strategy for the church. The remainder of the Division moved to six interconnecting parts: United Church resource distribution, Berkeley and UCTV, Resource Coordination, Graphics and Print, Marketing, Web Design and Production. In 2010 the Unit was renamed Communications and like the Division's mission in the past, it is responsible for supporting the General Council Office and the denomination by presenting the public face of The United Church of Canada through a variety of media and services. From a more modern perspective the unit helps to foster congregational life, personal spiritual formation, and effective administration of the church through social media, web services, public and media relations, statistics management, and the production and distribution of print and multimedia resources.

Fonds contains fourteen series: 1) Records relating to Administration and Finance, 1967-2012, 2) Records of the United Church Publishing House, 1967-2010, 3) Records of the Retail and Distribution Department/United Church Resource Distribution, 1986-2010, 4) Records of the Graphics and Print Department, 1975-2001, 5) Records relating to Resource Coordination, 1990-2012, 6) Records relating to Publicity, Education and Information, 1969-2016, 7) Records relating to Communication Education, 1968-1997, 8) Records of the Committee on Education for Mission and Stewardship/Department of Education for Mission, 1926-1997, 9) Records relating to Regional/Conference Relations, 1967-1980, 10) Records relating to Special Projects, 1968-1982, 11) Records of the Department of Audio Visuals, 1962-1974, 12) Records of the Department of Broadcasting, 1942-1978, 13) Records of the Department of Media Services and Media Resources, 1948-2007, 14) Records relating to Website Management, 1997-2013.

All researchers using these records must sign a "United Church of Canada Archives Research Agreement" (Form 26) since these records may include personal information on church staff, members, or clients. Electronic records are currently restricted for use.

For a list of staff members see Appendix A.

For records of antecedent bodies see FA513 Board of Publication and FA514 Board of Information and Stewardship.

SERIES 1\ RECORDS RELATING TO ADMINISTRATION AND FINANCE. –1967-2012. –ca. 5.47 m of textual material; –206 photographs and negatives.

From its inception in 1968 the Division of Communication has been overseen by an Executive and a Secretary, later termed the General Secretary and Executive Minister. The Secretary and succeeding roles were the heads of the Division, and the Executive were responsible for communicating with other Division Secretaries as well as counterparts in other denominations. The Division Executive was comprised of members elected to that role by their Conference (1 per) and others elected according to function (such as Chair, Vice-chair, Committee/Taskforce Chairs etc.) by the General Council. The Executives were also responsible for setting policy and overall direction for the work to be carried out in the program units and by the staff of the Division. The Department of Finance and Administration was established in 1985 with responsibility for all of the accounting and budgeting within the Division. The department dissolved in 1993 and the work was adopted by the General Secretary's office in 1994.

Series contains eight subseries: 1) Minutes, 1967-1999, 2) Reports, 1968-1990, 3) Correspondence, 1968-1983, 4) Financial Records, 1968-1998, 5) Office Files, 1967-2001, 6) Records of three General Secretaries, 1968-2008, 7) Records of the Division Management Team, 1991-1998, 8) Records of the Communications Group, 2008-2012.

SERIES 1\Subseries 7: Records of the Division Management Team. –1991-1998. –ca. 7 cm of textual material.

In addition to the Division Executive there was a Division Management Team that was a staff group comprised of the General Secretary, Directors of the five Division departments and managers from those departments. There were twelve people involved, six men and six women. The term "team" was unique to the Division as the other Divisions had fewer staff and departments.

Subseries contains minutes, correspondence and other related records created by the Division Management Team 1991-1998.

SERIES 1\Subseries 8: Records of the Communications Group. –2008-2012. –13 cm of textual material.

The purpose of the Communications Group was to galvanize people with communications responsibilities from units within the General Council Office, in order to implement a strategic communications program for the GCO. The goal was to create a simple, consistent, collaborative, efficient, and effective program. The General Council Secretary assigned the responsibility to develop and manage the communication to the Executive Minister of the Communications. The Communications Group focused on corporate communication tools that were produced to inform while the Publishing Group focused on resources produced to animate a program (See Series 2).

Subseries contains minutes and correspondence of the Communications Group 2008-2012.

SERIES 2\ RECORDS OF THE UNITED CHURCH PUBLISHING HOUSE. --1967-2010. --ca. 4.5 m of textual records; --5 photographs; --1 diskette.

In 1968 the Division of Communication absorbed the responsibilities of the former Board of Publication and former Board of Stewardship and Information. In so doing the new division was meant to encompass all forms of communication media, including print. Print work was overseen by the United Church Publishing House (UCPH) which was responsible for the publication, sale and distribution of materials for the United Church.

The Publishing House also operated the Ryerson Press as a publishing division to print and publish secular literature. By action of the 23rd General Council the Ryerson Press also took on religious printing and publishing. However by 1971 the Ryerson Press was sold because of financial difficulty. The United Church Publishing House remained the sole publishing house until 2002 and was responsible for national and regional distribution of print material, marketing research and evaluation of resources, publishing, and encouragement of ecumenical cooperation. The publishing house was also responsible for the United Church newspaper The Observer but it was separated from the Division in 1974 for financial issues concerning the publishing house.

In 1976 UCPH changed its name to CANEC. After recognizing a need for regional outlets for resource distribution, CANEC merged with existing outlets operated by the Conferences, created new outlets and also created presbytery resource centres to further distribution. In the 1980s CANEC took over AVEL (Audio Visual Education Library) distribution. CANEC reverted to the original name United Church Publishing House in 1987.

In 1989 the Department of Graphics and Print Production was created to centralize the printing produced by all divisions. With formation of above department and growing pressure from declining mission and service fund the Department of Education and Information was formed. The Department brought together Information Services, AVEL and Education for Mission. Under this new department, a Resource Distribution Task Group was established to look at the methods of resource distribution. With the financial failing of AVEL and the new restructuring of conferences the Division to formed two new departments in 1994 which divided publication work between publishing and retail. The Publishing Unit was responsible for producing resources for General Council divisions and also publishing for markets beyond the church. The Department of Retailing and Distribution was responsible for distributing materials for congregational and personal use.

The Publishing Unit and Department of Retailing and Distribution operated until 2001 when the Division became the Resource Production and Distribution Unit. The Publishing House still existed as a brand within United Church Resource Production and Distribution. United Church Resource Distribution came about as a way of differentiating the warehouse and distribution work from the production which came from the GCO. Marketing remained a function of the publishing house despite the finances being provided by the Distribution strain.

Series contains eight subseries: 1) Administrative Records, 1968-2008, 2) Records Relating to UCPH and Ryerson Press 1967-1983, 3) Records of the General Managers, 1980-1982, 4) Records of the Management Committee, 1967-1992, 5) Records of the UCPH National Advisory Committee, 1983-1997, 6) Early Publishing Projects, 1968-1987, 7) Records of the Department of Publishing, 1986-2001, 8) Records of the Publishing Group, 1985-2010.

SERIES 2\Subseries 4: Records of the Management Committee. –1967-1992. –ca. 16 cm of textual material.

The Management Committee was established in the 1960s under the Board of Publication to oversee the work of the publishing houses. The Committee initially reported to the Executive of the Board of Publication and later the Division of Communication after its formation. The official title of the committee varied over the years to reflect the primary functions the committee performed. The Management Committee oversaw the operation and workflow of the publishing projects and performed that type of administrative function unlike the National Advisory Committee which oversaw those responsible for content creation.

Subseries contains minutes, correspondence, and evaluations of the Management Committee 1967-1992.

SERIES 2\Subseries 5: Records of the UCPH National Advisory Committee. –1983-1997. –ca. 20 cm of textual material.

The National Advisory Committee (NAC) was a group made up of appointed and elected volunteers to oversee publishing projects. They were not involved with the implementation work, rather they were responsible for guiding and supporting those responsible for creating resources. The chair people of each of the Regional Advisory Committees sat on the UCPH National Advisory Committee (See Series 3 Subseries 5 for Regional Advisory Committee Records). The NAC also saw members elected due to their skill and experience in retail sales, marketing, finance and publishing.

Subseries contains minutes, reports, correspondence and accompanying documents of the UCPH National Advisory Committee 1983-1997.

SERIES 2\Subseries 7: Records of the Department of Publishing. -1986-2001. -ca. 1.4 m of textual material; -1 diskette; -4 photographs.

With financial restructuring in the early 1990s, the United Church Publishing House was sectioned into two departments: the Department of Publishing and the Department of Retail and Distribution. The Publishing Department was further divided between two categories which mirrored the new financial divisions: mission and service. The mission area was considered to be venture publishing while service publishing referred to the production of resources for GC Divisions

Subseries contains publishing project files which include planning documents, copyright and agreement contracts, documents re printing and correspondence 1986-2001. Subseries is arranged by area of work mission and service as well as general publishing projects which cannot be placed under either work area.

Mission Area

Venture publishing produced books that could reach a market within and beyond the United Church. The Ventures Team was responsible for organizing these endeavours. Books produced would give the United Church the opportunity of developing and promoting United Church authors.

SERIES 3\ RECORDS OF THE RETAIL AND DISTRIBUTION DEPARTMENT/UNITED CHURCH RESOURCE DISTRIBUTION. --1986-2010. --ca. 1.6 m of textual material; --1 photograph; --1 video tape.

With financial restructuring in the early 1990s the United Church Publishing House was sectioned into two departments: the Department of Publishing and the Department of Retail and Distribution. In 2002 the United Church Resource Distribution (UCRD) was formed as a result of the restructuring of the Division of Communication becoming the United Church Resource Production and Distribution Unit (UCRPD). Until 2002, the United Church Publishing House was responsible for the production, marketing and distribution of all UCC resources. When the UCRPD formed, the Publishing House still existed as a brand with in it and controlled production while UCRD served as a centralized order fulfillment and distribution service for the United Church of Canada to distribute UCC produced and supported resources. The distribution network included a central General Council Office infrastructure supported by distribution revenue and a network of Presbytery and Conference resource centres across Canada. Resources distributed included: UCPH publications, Voices United and other worship resources, Mission and Service program and support materials, free and paid subscriptions, curricula and General Council materials. Marketing of publications was the responsibility of the Publishing House yet came from the UCRD budget.

Series contains six subseries: 1) Administrative Records of the Retail Management and Distribution Team, 1995-2001, 2) Administrative Records of UCRD, 2001-2010, 3) Records of the Resource Distribution Manager, 2001-2009, 4) Records of the Resource Centre Network Committee, 1993-2003, 5) Records of the Regional Advisory Committees, 1987-2001, 6) Records relating to Resource Centres, 1986-2006.

For further records concerning resource distribution see Series 6 Records relating to Publicity, Education and Information.

For records concerning publishing refer to Series 2 Records of the United Church Publishing House.

SERIES 3\Subseries 1: Administrative Records of the Retail Management and Distribution Team. -- 1995-2001. --ca. 20 of textual material.

The Retail Management and Distribution Team were all staff people in the division under the United Church Publishing House responsible for managing the distribution of resources, both free and for sale produced by the United Church Publishing House and Berkeley Studio.

Subseries contains minutes and correspondence, reports, general documents, personnel records, financial and inventory records, and distribution centre/warehouse records pertaining to resource distribution work done by the Retail Management and Distribution Team 1995-2001.

SERIES 3\Subseries 5: Records of the Regional Advisory Committees. –1987-2001. –ca. 26 cm of textual material.

The Regional Advisory Committees were responsible for overseeing the distribution of United Church resources through Resource Centres in Conferences and Presbyteries. Only the retail stores had such committees (Edmonton, Winnipeg, and Dieppe/Moncton). The three with active committees reflected a historic relation/ownership of the Edmonton and Winnipeg stores by then Alberta and Manitoba Conferences, and an active Maritime Conference role in the Moncton store. The chairpeople of each of the Regional Advisory Committees sat on the UCPH National Advisory Committee. The NAC also saw members elected due to their skill and experience in retail sales, marketing, finance and publishing.

Subseries contains minutes, correspondence, financial records, reports, personnel records and visitation notes of the Regional Advisory Committees 1987-2001.

See Series 2 Subseries 5 for National Advisory Committee records.

SERIES 3\Subseries 6: Records relating to Resource Centres. –1986-2006. –ca. 65 cm of textual material; --1 video tape.

Resources Centres were hubs for the distribution of United Church produced material. The Resource Distribution Department and UCRD worked with Presbytery and Conference resource centres and outlets across Canada to deliver a comprehensive range of United Church and other recommended resources, bringing information, advice and resource access to church members. Under the umbrella of Resources Centres were Book Rooms: retail outlets overseen by the Conferences and Presbyteries. AVEL outlets were also under this umbrella offering free AV resources to Conferences. At some point some AVEL Outlets began to sell resources in order to counteract a lack of funding.

Subseries contains records relating to the various types of Resource Centres which included administrative groups like the Retail Distribution Branch Managers, the Resource Centre Administrative Task Group, the Book Room Branch Managers, and the Retail Operations Management Team. Files and subsequent arrangement reflect the type of resources centres including Presbytery Resource Centres, Book Rooms and AVEL outlets

SERIES 4\RECORDS OF THE GRAPHICS AND PRINT PRODUCTION DEPARTMENT. -1975-2001. - ca. 1.05 m of textual material.

In response to the General Council Centralized Print Task Group report, the Department of Graphics and Print Production was established in 1988. The Department was mandated to centralize the printing procedures of all General Council Divisions. Staff from existing positions in the Division of Mission in Canada, the Department of Stewardship Services within the Division of Finance and the Division of Communication were transferred to this department. Other Divisions and departments transferred budget resources for hiring freelance graphics people to this Department. The Department worked on developing the graphics and printing the resources while the Publishing House worked on the development of the resources from start to finish. With Division restructuring in 1999, the Resource Development Cluster was formed. Under this cluster was the Department of Graphics and Print, the Audio Visual Unit, and Publishing Unit. The cluster existed until 2000. Under the new Unit of Resource Production and Distribution, the Graphics and Print Department continued to exist as its own entity. In addition the role of Resource Coordinator was formed. The Resource Coordinators served as editors of materials. The Graphics and Print Department worked in tandem with them and the Publishing Unit to produce the graphics.

Series contains two subseries: 1) Administrative Records 1978-2001, 2) Records of Managing Editors, 1975-1996.

See F501 Series 224 for records of the General Council Centralized Print Task Group.

See Series 2 for records of the Publishing Department.

Managing Editors of the Graphics and Print Department were responsible for overseeing product development in terms of graphics and printing for resources produced by General Council Divisions.

Subseries contains records of John Ambrose in his role as Managing Editor and Managing Editor of Hymn and Worship Resource 1975-1996.

Managing Editor and Managing Editor of Hymn and Worship Resource

In 1995 the role of Managing Editor of Hymn and Worship Resources was established to guide the work of the United Church's hymnary Voices United. John Ambrose was selected for this role and worked under this title then under the title of Managing Editor until 1998. For this project the United Church Publishing House was responsible for the publishing and marketing while graphics and design were responsible for the product development.

For records concerning the publication of Voices United see Series 2 Records of the United Church Publishing House.

SERIES 5\RECORDS RELATING TO RESOURCE COORDINATION –1990-2012. –ca. 40 cm of textual material.

Before the creation of the Resource Coordinators work area, there were no resource coordinating functions within Communications or across the Church House. The Division of Communication and the Division of Mission in Canada had editors. These divisions were the largest resource producers. They worked on specific tasks and resources, like magazines and books, and did not share work or coordinate work. All the divisions used the services of Communications in terms of graphic design, and video and website design. The divisions (other than DMC and the Division of Communication) may have hired writers or possibly editors, but in general the material was not edited. And staff people in all the units (many of whom did not have communication backgrounds) had to decide first what kind of medium they wanted to produce (video, print, web) and then go to the appropriate staff person in Communications. In 2002, the work area of Resource Coordination was created. Resource Coordinating staff were liaisons with the General Council Units to provide professional advice about producing resources and to shepherd resources through the production process, which included editing, graphic design and web posting. Often the resource coordinator edited the resources (for print or Web) from their assigned units, or if they couldn't, ensured that they were edited by another resource coordinator or a freelancer.

Series contains three subseries: 1) Records of the Resource Planning Group and Print Resources Steering Group, 1990-1996, 2) Records of the Senior Editors, 1996-2012, 3) Records of the Resources Coordinators, 2003-2010.

SERIES 5\Subseries 1: Records of the Resource Planning Group and Print Resources Steering Committee. -1990-1996. –ca. 13 cm of textual material.

Before the creation of Resource Coordinators there were interdivisional groups which helped to streamline the creation of resources across divisions. The Resource Planning Group was used to increase communications across the Divisions and Units that were producing resources, because these tended to function as silos. Sometimes resources were duplicated across Units or other times it was known one Unit was producing something, but other Units could not provide valuable input. The aim was to increase communication, avoid duplication, and produce better resources. The Resource Planning Group was interdivisional of GC staff that produced resources and some Conference staff whose role was to provide feedback and input on resources. Similarly the Print Resources Steering Group held the same function but was specific to print material.

Subseries contains minutes, correspondence and planning documents of the Resource Planning Group and the Print Resources Steering Group 1990-1996.

The Resource Coordinators were responsible for coordinating the production of GCO print and audio visual materials. The coordinator's role involves advertising, liaising between resource production staff and staff from initiating units, tracking resources through stages of production, and liaising with marketing staff to help units create marketing strategies. The Resource Coordinators reported to the Senior Editor.

Subseries contains the files of Resource Coordinator Aaron Gallegos 2003-2010.

SERIES 6\ RECORDS RELATING TO PUBLICITY, EDUCATION AND INFORMATION. –1969-2016. – ca. 4.83 m of textual records; --40 microfilm reels. –225 photographs. –66 audio cassettes. –27 video cassettes.

The Department of Press and Information originated in the Board of Information and Stewardship, and became part of the Division of Communication in 1968. This Department was the liaison between the Church and the news media. It also produced several publications for distribution within the Church including editorial work on Mandate, Unchurched Editorials (a series distributed to Canadian publications on behalf of the Board of Evangelism and Social Service and later the Division of Mission in Canada), Words to Live By, Profiles (biographical sketches of church workers) and News/News Releases. The Department also played a role in developing communications awareness among church employees through presentations and seminars. In 1972 The Department changed its name to News Services, and in 1982 it was renamed News and Public Relations.

In 1985 the Statistics and Information Office was transferred from General Council to the Division of Communication's Department of Finance and Administration as part of a new Information Services Unit. This unit also took over the News and Public Relations functions. The unit was also responsible for producing the General Council Record of Proceedings, the United Church of Canada Yearbook, and press releases by the publicist. The position of Publicist was first created in 1987. The position was held by Mary-Frances Denis from 1987-2017 however the title changed various times through subsequent departmental changes. Marketing was never an official part of her job description but there were de facto marketing elements due to the public image impact that media relations involves.

In 1989, Information Service Unit functions were transferred to a new Department of Education and Information. The Department combined Information Services (from the Department of Finance and Administration) with Mission Education, Interpretation, and AVEL (from the Department of Media Services), and also absorbed the responsibility of the Publicist.

In the 1996 the responsibilities of the Department of Education and Information, including publicity and statics, were transferred to the Public Relations and Information Unit in the Division of Communication's General Secretaries Office. That unit became a part of the Public Relations and Marketing Cluster in 1999. After the re-organization of General Council administrative units in 2001, the responsibility of publicity was moved from the Division of Communication to the General Council Support and Services Unit under the new position of Communications Officer. When the Office of the Moderator and General Secretary was created in 2003, the position became a part of that unit.

Under another re-organization in 2005, the Communications Officer position was moved to the newly created Resources, Production and Distribution Unit (formerly the Division of Communication). In 2010 the Resources, Production and Distribution Unit was re-named Communications, and the position title was changed to Manager, Public Relations and Information.

Fonds contains nine series: 1) Correspondence of the Director of Press and Information/News Services/News and Public Relations 1973-1982; 2) Office Files, 1969-2012; 3) Records re Editorial Work, 1972-1981; 4) Records re Communication Education Work, 1976-1979; 5) Records of the Information Services Unit, 1970-1988; 6) Records of the Publicist and Antecedent Positions, 1986-2008; 7) Records of the Department of Education and Information, 1975-2000; 8) Records of the Public Relations and Information Unit, 1996-1998; 9) Communication Documents, 1969-2016.

Some of the records of the Communications Officer re Residential Schools are located in duplicate at the National Centre for Truth and Reconciliation as per the Indian Residential Schools Settlement Agreement.

SERIES 6\Subseries 1: Correspondence of the Director of Press and Information/News Services/News and Public Relations. -1973-1982. -ca. 78 cm of textual material.

In 1968, the position of Director of Press and Information was created. Norman K. Vale held this position from 1968-1971, though the position title changed to Director of News Services in 1971. From 1971-1984, Alayne Scanlon held the position and the title change from News Services to Director of News and Public Relations in 1981.

Subseries contains correspondence and accompanying documents collected by the Directors 1973-1982.

SERIES 6\Subseries 5: Records of the Information Services Unit. -1970-1988. -ca. 46 cm of textual material.—30 microfilm reels.

In 1985 the Statistics and Information Office was transferred from General Council to the Division of Communication's Department of Finance and Administration as part of a new Information Services Unit. This unit also took over the News and Public Relations functions. Doug Flanders served in the Research Office/Statistics and Information Office of General Council from 1980-1985 when the office was transferred under the name of Information Services Unit. The unit was also responsible for producing the General Council Record of Proceedings, the United Church of Canada Year Book, and press releases by the publicist. In 1989 this unit became part of a new Department: Education and Information within the same division.

Subseries contains records of the General Council Research/Statistics Information Office transitional period to the Division of Communication and also records of the Information Officers and related staff of the unit. Files include staff portfolios, correspondence and research pertaining to the statistics of the united church 1970-1988.

SERIES 6\Subseries 6: Records of the Publicist and Antecedent Positions. -1986-2008. -ca. 15 cm of textual material.

The position of Publicist was first created in 1987 and was under the Department of Finance and Administration of the Division of Communication. The position was held by Mary-Frances Denis from 1987-2017 though the title changed various times. In 1989, the position was moved to the Department of Education and Information (still under the Division). In 1996, the position title changed to Manager, Public Relations and Information Unit. In 1999 the position of Manager, Public Relations and Information became a part of the Public Relations and Marketing Cluster of the Division of Communication. After the re-organization of General Council administrative units in 2001, the position of Communications Officer was created and became a part of the General Council Support and Services Unit. When the Office of the Moderator and General Secretary was created in 2003, the position became a part of that unit. Under another re-organization in 2005, the Communications Officer position was moved to the newly created Resources, Production and Distribution Unit. In 2010 the Resources, Production and Distribution Unit was re-named Communications, and the position title was changed to Manager, Public Relations and Information.

Subseries contains the records of Mary Francis-Denis in her various positions relating to publicity. Files include her correspondence and notes 1986-2008.

SERIES 6\Subseries 7: Records of the Department Education and Information. --1975-2000. --ca. 1.2 m of textual material; --10 microfilm reels; --20 photographs.

In 1989 the Department Education and Information was created. The Department combined Information Services (from the Department of Finance and Administration) with Mission Education, Interpretation, and AVEL (from the Department of Media Services). The Department also absorbed the responsibility of the Publicist. The department was active until 1996 when it was dissolved and the responsibilities dispersed to other departments within the division. From 1989 to 1996 Douglas Flanders held the position of Director. Kristine Greenaway worked under him as Communication Education Coordinator then Media Consultant.

Subseries contains the files of Mary Francis Denis, Doug Flanders and Kristine Greenaway concerning their work in the Department of Education Information 1975-2000. Files include Kristine Greenaway's work re AVEL and records of the Resource Distribution Task Group.

See Series 7 Subseries 3 Records relating to Communication Education for further records of Kristine Greenaway's work concerning this area.

Resource Distribution Task Group

When the Department of Education and Information was formed a Resource Distribution Task Group was established to look at resource distribution and recommend changes to methods of distribution and guide pilot project process. This task group was led by the Department but was interdivisional and met to coordinate resource development. With the financial failing of AVEL and the new restructuring of conferences served as a catalyst for the Division to form two new departments in 1994 dividing publication work: publishing and retail.

See Series 2 Records of the United Church Publishing House and Series 3 Records of the Retail and Distribution Department/United Church Resource Distribution for records of the areas created by this task group.

SERIES 7\RECORDS RELATING TO COMMUNICATION EDUCATION. –1968-1997. –ca. 1.46 m of textual records.

Communication education had been an activity of several of the Departments in the Board of Information and Stewardship, including Press and Information, Broadcasting and Audio-Visual. These Departments continued their activity in the new Division of Communication. In the 1960s and 1970s Rev. Robert Reid took on the work of communication education and was responsible for increasing the churches understanding and familiarity with different media of communication through seminars, workshops, bursaries, scholarships, seminary courses and professional consultations. Reid worked closely with Helen Currie to bolster communication education concerning audio visual materials. However in 1971 Reid was removed from the audio visual focus and was tasked to oversee communication education concerning all types of media. In 1973 Communication Education was placed under the purview of Media Services and offered advance courses in theological schools, and workshops at conference and presbyteries levels typically involving other denominations. When the 1973 transition happened, Keith Woollard, former Director of Broadcasting, concentrated his energies on a new Communication Education Staff Group and on regional relationships. The Communication Education Staff Group assigned the responsibility of giving leadership on Communication Education within the Division and in relation to conferences. The group was devoted to aiding United Church ministers and workers in utilizing all manner of communications (print, audio, visual) to more effectively make their message heard. In 1975 Division of Communication authorized the formation of a Communication Education Task Force to develop a strategy for communication education within the United Church. The staff group was assigned to follow through with the Task Group's strategy, to follow through with involvement in community cable projects and absorb the responsibilities of the Media Outreach Task Force originally established to encourage and assist the Maritime Conference and the Saskatoon Presbytery to design informational-motivational campaigns. The same task group also communed with local congregations, presbyteries etc. to create a guidebook for media outreach.

Series contains six subseries: 1) Administrative Records, 1968-1982, 2) Records relating to Communication Education Events, 1968-1980, 3) Records of the Communication Education Committee, 1985-1997, 4) Records of the Probe Communications Seminars, 1975-1989, 5) Records of Television Awareness Training and TV Scope Programmes, 1976-1981, 6) Records of Evangelism/Communication Program, 1983.

For other Communication Education work in the Division see Series 1 Records relating to Administration and Finance, Series 6 Records relating to Publicity, Education and Information, and Series 13 Records of the Department of Media Services and Media Resources.

For records re Media Outreach see Series 10 Subseries 5.

SERIES 7/Subseries 3: Records of the Communication Education Committee. -1985-1997. -ca. 25 cm of textual material.

In 1985 the Communications Education Committee was established. Their mandate was to assist congregations to communicate the Christian message and help members understand what was being communicated to them. Kristine Greenaway was very involved in this committee and worked as a Communication Education Coordinator in the mid-80s.

Subseries contains minutes, correspondence and programme details of the Communication Education Committee as well as the Media Awareness Task Group 1985-1996.

See Series 6 Record relating to Publicity, Education and Information for further records of Kristine Greenaway's work concerning this area.

SERIES 7\Subseries 5: Records of Television Awareness Training (TAT) and TV Scope Programmes. –1976-1981. –ca. 40 cm of textual material.

Television Awareness Training (TAT) was a program developed by Communication Education staff in 1977 which offered several seminars to UC presbyteries and congregations across the country to help people understand the effect that television had on their lives. A program called TVScope replaced TAT in 1983 and provided greater versatility Subseries contains programme documents, manuals, and correspondence concerning TAT and TV Scope 1976-1981.

For audio visual material concerning TAT see Series 13 Records of the Department of Media Resources and Media Services Subseries 3.

SERIES 8\ RECORDS OF THE COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION FOR MISSION AND STEWARDSHIP/DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION FOR MISSION. --1926-1997, predominantly 1971-1982. --ca. 8.1 m of textual material; --115 photographs; --4 vinyl records; --1 audio cassette.

The Division did not acquire responsibility for missionary education until a few years after its establishment. The Committee on Education for Mission and Stewardship (CEMS) transferred from the Division of Congregational Life and Work after it was discontinued 1971. This was decided by the Executive of the Church as a means of ensuring that education for mission and stewardship continued to be an identifiable responsibility of the national church. The Committee was responsible for informing, educating and motivating congregations in mission and stewardship areas, and acted as a coordinating centre for activities in the Division of Mission in Canada's Department of Christian Development and the Division of Finance's Department of Stewardship Services. Among its activities were the production of publications including Mandate (and later Mandate/Newsletter); Project Book, an annual mission-oriented production; the Canadian Church Calendar, in cooperation with the Anglican Church; and Worldwind, for children. CEMS also produced an annual print resource in collaboration with Friendship Press, National Council of Churches USA, which featured a country mission focus, e.g. "Angola." AVEL was the primary distributor of the visual materials which were almost exclusively filmstrips with the occasional 16mm film (usually one or two a year were produced, often with a national TV audience through the CBC series "Man Alive"). The Committee sponsored local mission awareness activities and arranged speaking tours for missionaries home on furlough. In 1981 the Department on Education for Mission was established as the secretariat for the Committee, but it was short-lived as the Committee joined with Media Services in 1983 to form the Department of Media Resources.

Series contains seven subseries: 1) Records of CEMS Executive, 1971-1997, 2) Mission Resources, 1957-1988, 3) Mission Interpretation and Deputation, 1956-1984, 4) Mission Study, 1926-1979, 5) Mission Information, 1971-1982, 6) Correspondence with Pastoral Charges, Presbyteries and Conferences, 1969-1979, 7) Records relating to the Canadian Church Calendar, 1971-1995.

See also FA511 Division of Congregational Life and Work, Series 3, Subseries 1 for antecedent records of the Committee.

See also Series 10 Department of Media Services and Media Resources for succeeding material.

For related records see F512 Division of Mission in Canada and F519 Division of Finance.

SERIES 8\Subseries 1: Records of CEMS Executive. --1971-1997. --ca. 1.2 m of textual material; --27 photographs.

Subseries contains records of the Executive including minutes of annual, executive and staff meetings, correspondence, correspondence of the responsible Associate Secretary, Robert Plant, and annual reports 1971-1997.

SERIES 8\Subseries 3: Mission Interpretation and Deputation. –1956-1984. –ca. 1 m of textual material; --68 photographs.

Subseries contains records of Mission Interpretation and Deputation, 1956-1984. Mission Interpretation and Deputation worked with the Division of World Outreach, the Division of Mission in Canada, and at the congregational level to ensure a devotion to mission understanding and support. One of its principal activities was arranging tours by missionaries on furlough in Canada. Subseries includes correspondence of the Director, correspondence to missionaries, and correspondence with Conference Coordinators of Mission Deputation for the years 1983-1984. This work was later adopted by the Department of Media Services in the 1980s.

For Department of Media Services Mission Interpretation Records see Series 13, Subseries 10 for the continuation of these records.

See Fonds 504 Division of World Outreach, Series 3 for additional missionary communication records.

SERIES 9\ RECORDS RELATING TO REGIONAL/CONFERENCE RELATIONS. --1967-1980. --ca. 64 cm of textual records.

The Division provided grants to Conferences for production costs related to local programming. In 1967 there were regional broadcasting centres operating in the British Columbia Conference, in western Canada (including the Prairie Regional Broadcasting Council) and in Ontario (including the Western Ontario Regional Broadcasting Council), all of which received block grants from the Division. The programme had initially been administered by the Department of Broadcasting under Keith Woollard; he served as Associate Secretary for Regional Relations and Communication Education after leaving the Department of Broadcasting in 1973, until his retirement in 1983. Conferences continued to have their own Communications Committees which were supported by the National Division.

Series contains fifteen subseries: 1) Administrative Records, 1968-1976, 2) Records relating to Newfoundland Conference Relations, 1975-1979, 3) Records relating to Maritime Conference Relations, 1969-1980, 4) Records relating to Montreal/Ottawa Conference Relations, 1969-1980, 5) Records relating to Bay of Quinte Conference Relations, 1967-1980, 6) Records relating to Toronto Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 7) Records relating to Hamilton Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 8) Records relating to London Conference Relations, 1971-1980, 9) Records relating to Manitou Conference Relations, 1975-1980 10) Records relating to Manitoba Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 11) Records relating to Saskatchewan Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 12) Records relating to Alberta Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 13) Records relating to British Columbia Conference Relations, 1968-1980, 14) Records relating to the Western Ontario Regional Broadcasting Council, 1968-1980, 15) Records relating to the Prairie Regional Broadcasting Council, 1968-1975.

SERIES 10\ RECORDS RELATING TO SPECIAL PROJECTS. -1968-1982. -ca. 1.34 m of textual records. -13 video cassettes. -59 photographs.

Special projects were created by the United Church to use the media, especially television, to bring the message of the Church to the general public. The Division of Communication and specifically the departments dealing with av were heavily involved. These projects included attempts to generate interest in United Church activities in selected locales under the auspices of Media Plans I-III in the 1970s. The results of these broadcasts were analysed and the remaining work was left to the Conferences. Three television specials, "Mediamix," 1971, "The Fiftieth Anniversary National Event," 1975, and "These Things We Share," 1981, which promoted the mission of the Church, were contained under the rubric of special projects.

Series contains seven subseries: 1) Records relating to R.S.V.P. Telecasts, 1968-1969, 2) Records related to Mediamix, 1970-1973, 3) Records related to Media Plan I, 1973-1974, 4) Records related to Media Plan II, 1974-1975, 5) Records related to Media Plan III/Media Outreach, 1975-1980, 6) Records related to the Fiftieth Anniversary National Event, 1974-1975, 7) Records related to the United Church Television Special "These things we share", 1974-1982.

See Series 12 Department of Broadcasting for further records of the Department.

SERIES 10\Subseries 1: Records related to R.S.V.P. Telecasts. -1968-1969.—ca. 2 cm of textual material.

Respond by Sharing in a Variety of Projects (R.S.V.P.) Telecasts were fundraising campaigns to promote a million dollar increase in contributions to international aid and development. The telecasts were produced by the Broadcasting Department. They were filmed in Winnipeg and featured United Church Moderator Dr. Bob McClure. The spots aired in late 1968 and surveys were collected in 1969.

Subseries contains correspondence, reports and press concerning R.S.V.P. Telecasts 1968-1969.

SERIES 10\Subseries 3: Records related to Media Plan I. -1973-1974. -ca. 14 cm of textual material.

Media Plan I was established out of Mediamix through Bruce Marsh. Marsh prompted the Division to design a new approach to reach United Church members through TV spots in primetime programming with the purpose of informing United Church members about the message and work of the Church in order to foster financial involvement. In that process members of the general public would be informed and develop an appreciation of the Church and its projects to prompt a positive response. Media Plan I was the name given to the pilot educational campaigns in Barrie, Peterborough and Ottawa in early 1974. The report on this project indicated that TV spots reached a broad United Church audience with strong acceptance but the radio spots followed at a distance when reaching members. However while using guest personalities on radio reached fewer people those listening were impacted.

Subseries contains correspondence, reports, promotional material, financial records and press re Media Plan I 1973-1974.

SERIES 10\Subseries 5: Records related to Media Plan III/Media Outreach. -1975-1980. -4 cm of textual material.

In 1975 Media Outreach replaced term Media Plan to reflect the change of moods, motives and emphases in the media strategies developed by the Conferences and supported by the National Division. The focus of Media Outreach was on faith that makes people "tick" rather than faith in action. Hence, material was produced in co-operation with the Division of Mission in Canada. The Division of Communication developed a Media Outreach Task Force to encourage and assist the Maritime Conference and the Saskatoon Presbytery to design these informational-motivational campaigns. The same task group also communed with local congregations, presbyteries etc. to create a guidebook for media outreach.

Subseries contains reports, correspondence and notes re Media Outreach 1975-1980.

These Things We Share was a United Church TV Project authorized by the General Council Executive in 1978. The program was meant to present on national TV the varied ways in which the gospel is experienced and shared in the plurality of the United Church and the current activities of the Church. The end goal was to foster people's faith and move to actualize it.

SERIES 11\ RECORDS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF AUDIO VISUALS--1962-1974, predominantly 1968-1973. --ca. 70 cm of textual records; --22 photographs; --1 video cassette.

This Department of Audio Visuals was adopted by the Division of Communication through the Board of Information in 1968. The Department was responsible for instructional communication concerned with the design and use of messages which control the learning process involved in communication research, communication education, search for resources, consultation and presentation, media production, and information and promotion. More specifically the Department produced film, still pictures (photographs, slides, filmstrips) and audio cassettes, which was usually undertaken at the request of other Divisions within the Church. The Audio Visual Education Library (AVEL) was administered by the Department during this period, and it played an early role in the provision of communication education. In 1973 the Department of Audio Visual's joined with the Department of Broadcasting to form the Department of Media Services.

Series contains five subseries: 1) Administrative Records, 1967-1973, 2) Records relating to Film Production, 1968-1972, 3) Records relating to Still Picture Production, 1968-1972, 4) Records relating to Audio Cassettes Production, 1971-1972, 5) Records relating to AV Consultation and AVEL, 1968-1972.

That All May Be One (TAMBO)

That All May Be One (TAMBO) was a multi-image production meant to involve people in vital human issues of the 1970s. The film was produced by Anson Moorehouse who had previously worked on two film productions and felt limited by the linear medium. In the production phase of TAMBO eleven projectors were involved (six carousels and five motion picture projectors) all projecting images via an electric programmer. The tag line for the production was "That All May Be One" is a non-linear religion for the non-linear 70's".

See 95.075AV/11 for copy of TAMBO transferred to vhs.

See Series 13 Subseries 3 Berkeley Studio for related av records.

Reddick I and II (CBC-TV film)

Reddick I and II were films made for television by Munro Scott that aired on the CBC. The films told the story of a minister named James Riddick played by Donald Harron, who attempts to re-establish his church by balancing old and modern ways. The films were considered controversial because they questioned the parameters of faith in the modern age.

SERIES 12\ RECORDS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF BROADCASTING-- 1942-1978, predominantly 1963-1973. --ca. 12.1 m of textual records; --69 photographs; --26 audio reels.

The Department of Broadcasting was transferred to the Division of Communication from the Board of Information in 1968. The Department was responsible for the production of radio and television of the Church, training and assisting regional and Conference broadcast staff, and responding to the major broadcasting networks. A large part of the production work was carried on in association with interchurch bodies including Religious Television Associates (RTA), the production arm of Interchurch Broadcasting. RTA helped to produce "Spectrum" for a Toronto television station. In addition, the Department was responsible for United Church participation in the National Religious Advisory Council to the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation (CBC) and a separate Religious Advisory Committee to CFTO-TV, a Canadian Television (CTV) affiliate.

Series contains six subseries: 1) Administrative Records, 1967-1972, 2) Records of the Directors, 1942-1978, 3) Records relating to Television Work, 1968-1969, 4) Records relating to Cable Work, 1970-1972, 5) Records of the Assistant Director of Radio and Television, 1956-1973, 6) Record relating to Religious Television Associates, 1961-1972.

When a Child Asks

When a Child Asks was a fifteen minute radio programme for parents featuring Canadian actors and panellists discussing questions concerning parenting sent in by listeners. The programme was produced by Nancy Edwards through Berkeley Studio. Edwards developed the concept after years of working in Newfoundland where she traveled a great deal and stayed at homes of families. Often families asked her questions and it became clear that the answers were not available to them. The shows format featured a dramatized question, then the panellists discussed the question.

Tell Us a Story

Tell Us a Story was a fifteen minute radio programme produced by Nancy Edwards for preteens as a radio arm of Sunday School in the Home by Mail and Air. The format featured a dramatic segment concerning the life of Jesus, followed by a DIY suggestion or a give away offer by Miss Marion (Brillinger).

See also FA508 Series 3 Subseries 7 for material relating to this programming and Sunday School in the Homes.

SERIES 13\ RECORDS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF MEDIA SERVICES AND MEDIA RESOURCES. -- 1948-2007, predominantly 1960-1985. --ca. 22.46 m of textual material; --10689 photographs and negatives; --16 photo albums; --1504 film reels; --143 video tapes; --1327 audio reels; --761 audio tapes; --9 vinyl records; --1 floppy disc.

In 1973, the Department of Media Services was established bringing together the functions of the former Audio Visual Resources and Broadcasting Departments, and of Communication Education because their work often overlapped. The impact of that was that film was seen as a medium appropriate either to projection on a screen or to broadcasting on television, while taped radio programs could be used as an audio tape for inter church educational use. The traditional boundaries disappeared which also included the sale of material between departments. In 1983 the Department of Media Resources was established by adding the Education for Mission function. Thus Berkeley Studio, AVEL, the Audio Visual Consultant and the mission interpretation and education programme became components of this new Department. The Department participated in various interdenominational bodies including Interchurch Broadcasting, the World Association for Christian Communication, the communication wing of the National Council of Churches of Christ (U.S.A.), the media magazine Media and Values, the Canadian Church Press and Associated Church Press. Berkeley Studio was responsible for production of radio and television, film and still pictures (photographs, filmstrips, slides), and was involved in the production of material for Vision TV, the Canadian interfaith religious television network. With restructuring in the late 1990s and early 2000s the unit became the Audio Visual Unit under the Resource Development Cluster in 1999, then Berkeley Studio from 2002 to 2006, and Multi Media Producer under Graphics and Print Unit Creative Services from 2013 to the present.

Series contains eleven subseries: 1) Minutes, 1978-1988, 2) Records of the Director's Office, 1959-1988, 3) Records of Berkeley Studio, 1955-2007, 4) Records of the Television and Film Unit, 1963-2007, 5) Records relating to Interchurch and Interfaith Communications, 1965-2006, 6) Records relating to Nancy Edwards Programming, 1948-1980, 7) Records of the Audio/Visual Production Unit, 1962-1989, 8) Records of the Still Pictures Unit, 1956-1990, 9) Records relating to AVEL and Medial Consulting, 1970-1989, 10) Records relating to Mission Interpretation, 1976-1988, 11) Records of the Editors, 1985-1987.

Berkeley Studio was formed in 1956 under the Audio-Visual and Radio and Television Units of the Board of Information and Stewardship, at its inception in 1956 (authorized by the Sixteenth General Council). In 1968, Berkeley Studios became a part of the newly created Division of Communication, an amalgamation of the Board of Publication, and most operations of the Board of Information. Berkeley Studio served as the production arm of the church.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 4: Records of the Television and Film Unit. --1963-2007. --4.8 m of textual records; --9 photographs; --11 audio cassettes.

The Television and Film Unit was formed in 1973 from Department of Broadcasting when the Department of Media Services was established. The Unit produced television materials as well as children's programming.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 5: Records relating to Interchurch and Interfaith Communications. -1965-2006. --ca. 52 cm of textual records; --22 audio cassettes; --22 audio reels; --38 video tapes.

ICB was created in 1964 in response to the overwhelming monopoly of American broadcasting in Canada on religious programming. ICB involved the United Church and other denominations as a channel for main-line Christian denominations to gain access to broadcasting station and/or network. ICB brought together Religious Television Associates (the production arm of ICB) with Interchurch Radio Operations. ICB later became Interchurch Communication which formed the Canadian Interfaith Network in 1983 and later Vision TV in 1986.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 6: Records relating to Nancy Edwards Programming. --1948-1980. --516 audio reels; --53 audio cassettes; --2.69 cm of textual material; --3 photographs.

Nancy Edwards joined the Department of Radio and Television of the Board of Information and Stewardship as an Assistant to the Director in 1956, and until her retirement in 1980 held various positions (subsequently in the Departments of Broadcasting and Media Services) relating to radio production. During her involvement with the Departments she hosted two radio shows.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 7: Records of the Audio/Visual Production Unit. -- 1962-1989. --ca. 3.3 m of textual records; --235 audio cassettes; --390 audio reels. --5 photographs.

Audio/Video Production became a unit within the Department of Media Services in 1976, with Betty Richardson as producer. The Unit produced mostly audio cassettes. Responsibilities included recording of General Councils, Divisional meetings, and special events; and production of materials in response to programmes of the several Church Divisions, as well as maintaining an active library.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 8: Records of the Still Pictures Unit –1956-1990. –ca. 2 m of textual records. 1087 photographs and negatives; --16 photo albums; –265 film reels; –9 vinyl records; –189 audio cassettes; –15 audio reels.

Still pictures were originally the responsibility of the Audio-Visual Department within the Board of Information and Stewardship (created 1954), and the programme was continued by the Division of Communication's Audio Visual Department prior to 1973 and then by the Department of Media Services/Media Resources Still Picture Unit. The Unit, housed at Berkeley Studios, was involved in the collection and production of photographs, slides, and film strips.

See separate document for further administrative history and finding aid with subseries description.

SERIES 13\Subseries 9: Records Relating to AVEL and Media Consulting. --1970-1989, predominantly 1973-1986. –90 cm of textual records.

Audio-Visual Resources was brought under the Department of Media Services in 1973, bringing with it the responsibility for the consultant and, subsequently, the Audio Visual Education Library (AVEL). The Media Resource Consultant was to act as an educator and facilitator for Conferences and congregations, as well as a buyer of resource materials worldwide.

Subseries contains reports of the Media Resource Consultant and reports regarding audio visual usage, correspondence of both the Resource Consultant and the Audio Visual Education Librarian with Conferences, resource centres, other denominations and suppliers of materials, and bulletins and circulars issued by AVEL 1970-1989.

See Series 11 Department of Audio Visuals and Series 6 Records relating to Publicity, Education and Information for antecedent records.

SERIES 13\Subseries 10: Records relating to Mission Interpretation. --1976-1988. --ca. 60 cm of textual material; --73 photographs and negatives.

Mission interpretation, previously part of the Committee on Education for Mission and Stewardship, became part of the new Department of Media Resources in 1983. Interpretation enjoyed special relationships with the Division of World Outreach and the Division of Mission in Canada, as well as active work at the congregational level to ensure a devotion to mission understanding and support. One of its principal activities was arranging tours by missionaries in Canada on furlough. In 1989 Mission Interpretation was transferred to the new Department of Education and Information.

Subseries contains Coordinator and Unit Staff correspondence, Coordinator Carolyn Wilkinson's correspondence and documents re overseas guests visiting Canada as part of various mission themes, files on Native Ministry Interpretation, general correspondence with overseas personnel including some annual (Christmas) letters to Canada, and photographs and plans for speaking tours during furloughs.

SERIES 13\Subseries 3: Records of Berkeley Studio. -- 1955-2007, predominantly 1973-1995. --4.4 m of textual records. --9512 photographs; --1239 film reels; --105 video tapes; --384 audio reels; --251 audio tapes. --1 floppy disc.

Berkeley Studio opened in 1956 at the site of the former Berkeley Street United Church in Toronto, and was housed there for 40 years. The building provided a dedicated facility for photographs, film and film strips, recordings and radio and TV production that aided all Church Departments in promoting the work of the United Church.

Berkeley Studio was initially formed under the Audio-Visual and Radio and Television Units of the Board of Information and Stewardship, at its inception in 1956 (authorized by the Sixteenth General Council). In 1968, Berkeley Studio became a part of the newly created Division of Communication, an amalgamation of the Board of Publication, and most operations of the Board of Information.

In the 1970s, a re-organization within the Division of Communication occurred. In 1973, Berkeley Studio became a part of the Department of Media Services, which was established as a result of the union of the Audio-Visual Resources and Broadcasting and the Communication Education units; its goal was to educate Church members in the use of communications media.

In the 1980s reorganization of the Division of Communication continued. In 1983, the Department of Media Resources/Services was established by adding the Education for Mission function. Thus, Berkeley Studio, AVEL, the Audio Visual Consultant and the mission interpretation and education programme became components of this new Department. In 1984, the Department of Media Services and Education for Mission were amalgamated to form the Department of Media Resources. Participating in inter-church and interfaith associations, its biggest challenge by 1988 was Vision TV, the interfaith religious television network in Canada.

With restructuring and the office move to 3250 Bloor Street West in 1995. Berkeley Studio which housed both the broadcast and educational/resource video teams moved as part of the Division of Communication's overall move to the new premises. In the wake of the 2001 restructuring when the divisional structure was eliminated, Berkeley became part of the Resource Production and Distribution (RPD) Unit. In 2007, Berkeley Studio was closed and its broadcasting relationship with Vision TV ended. A small video edit suite was maintained by a producer and renamed the Multimedia Unit as part of RPD. That exists today within the Communications Unit.

Subseries consists of records of the Berkeley Studio Manager, and later of the Studio Administrator. Subseries includes files regarding production data, correspondence relating to personnel, and programmes produced at Berkeley Studio, and records of committees.

Please Note: Since Berkeley Studio was the production facility for Media Services please refer to the unit and departmental records captured in the other series for works produced by them: ie. Series 4-8. Unclaimed works and administration files of Berkeley have been placed in this series.

Betty Jane's Diary

Betty Jane's Diary was a short radio programme produced by Berkeley Studio and broadcast across Canada. Like other Berkeley Studio radio shows, it was offered free to radio stations and the producer offered promotion spots and publicity to the radio stations. The show was hosted by Betty Jane Wylie, an author and playwright. The target audience were urban and suburban housewives and mothers. The broadcasts were ninety-seconds long and covered a broad range of topics. The programme was in circulation from 1977 until 1981 when it was discontinued due to budget limitations.

Records include cue sheets, scripts, audio reels and production files related to the making of Betty Jane's Diary 1977-1981.

See Appendix C for list of tapes and sets with detailed descriptions.

SERIES 13\Subseries 4: Records of the Television and Film Unit. --1963-2007. --4.8 m of textual records; --9 photographs; --11 audio cassettes.

The Television and Film Unit and its predecessor body, the Department of Broadcasting, produced television materials as well as children's programming. The Unit was housed at Berkeley Studios. United Church Television was created to produce programming for public broadcast on a network. Most of the content was shown on Vision TV but there were a few co-productions with CBC and some relationships with European broadcasters. The other stream of work for the unit were the productions done for other Divisions of the Church. They were distributed through AVEL. The Unit was also a participant in Religious Television Associates, an interdenominational production group and produced various material in partnership with RTA. In addition it worked on or produced several film projects on human rights, development, and subjects related to priorities of other Divisions of the Church. The Unit also took responsibility for work in the field of cable television. One of the priorities after 1986 was the production of "Spirit Connection," a weekly half-hour television programme seen on Vision TV, the interfaith network.

Subseries consists of correspondence with other Divisions of the Church, interdenominational and international bodies and with Canadian broadcasting regulators; production files for films, television and radio; and miscellaneous files. Includes correspondence, legal agreements and contracts of Religious Television Associates.

For preceding records see Series 12 Department of Broadcasting.

For related RTA records see Series 13 Subseries 5 Interchurch and Interfaith Communications.

United Church Television

UCTV was created in 1985 by action of the Executive of the General Council to produce regular network television programming on behalf of the United Church of Canada that would represent the concerns of the Church. From 1985 to 1997 the work was guided by a Television Programming Board mandated to create policy and procedures and to oversee whether UCTV work was reflecting the church. The Board was housed in the Division of Communication as a standing inter-divisional committee with members at large chosen for their church and media experience. The Division of Communication provided staff, administrative report, budgeting and procedures.

The Department of Media Services and later Media Resources participated in interchurch and interfaith broadcasting throughout its history, adopting this area of work from its predecessor the Department of Broadcasting. In the early years the Department was a participant in Interchurch Broadcasting and later Interchurch Communications: a channel for main-line Christian denominations. Later the Department was involved in Vision TV and interfaith network for religious programming developed from a call for application from the CRTC.

Subseries consists of ICB and Interchurch Communications Committee minutes, reports, and correspondence as well as United Church correspondence with other participating denominations, and reports on cable television projects. Also included are files on Between Ourselves, a radio show produced by ICB, and records pertaining to the formation and operation of the Canada Interfaith Faith Network and Vision TV.

Interchurch Broadcasting (ICB) and Interchurch Communications (ICC)

Inter-Church Broadcasting (ICB) was initially the responsibility of the Broadcasting Department but moved to the Department of Media Services when it was formed in 1973. ICB was created in 1964 in response to the overwhelming monopoly of American broadcasting in Canada on religious programming. ICB first involved the Anglican, Roman Catholic and United Churches as a channel for main-line Christian denominations to gain access to broadcasting station and/or network. ICB shared programming costs, conducted research into new areas of programming (children's television, for example), and shared information in areas of denominational work and concerns in radio, television, audio visual resources, press relations, media training, community cable television, and the promotion and distribution of materials. ICB brought together Religious Television Associates (the production arm of ICB) with Interchurch Radio Operations. The work was to be overseen by a management group made up of senior personnel from the representative denominations. ICB was later joined by the Lutheran, Baptist and Presbyterian Churches. In the 1970s Interchurch Broadcasting changed to Interchurch Communications (ICC).

For earlier ICB records and records of RTA see Series 12 Department of Broadcasting.

Between Ourselves

Between Ourselves was a weekly twenty-minutes radio programme produced by Interchurch Broadcasting (later Interchurch Communications) in the 1960s and 1970s. It was broadcast on Toronto radio station, CFRB, and employed the interview format, with the several participating denominations supplying hosts and guests on a weekly rotating basis.

There are some tapes available from before 1972 but have no associated cue sheets.

Canadian Interfaith Network (CIN) and Vision TV

In 1983 ICC was approached by four communication professionals who had served on ICC with a proposal that would enable ICC to respond to the CRTC Call for Applications for an interfaith television network. This was seen as a logical extension of ICC's previous work. In response the Canadian Interfaith Network was cooperatively developed to provide quality programming of a religious and value-based nature on a national satellite-to-cable-system. The CIN license application was submitted in 1984 and constituted a number of denominations including: Anglican, Buddhist, Christian Reformed, Greek Orthodox, Hindu, Lutheran, Muslim, Salvation Army, Sikh, Unitarian, United and Zoroastrian. By the request of CIN the licensing process was adjourned to allow for further consultation and development. CIN filed a progress report with the CRTC in 1985 and supplementary submission in 1986. Later that year the CRTC called for new specialty service license applications and gave CIN the opportunity to amend the previous application. CIN refiled in October 1985 under the name Vision TV (VTV), Canada's Faith Network and the license was granted in 1987. Vision TV operated out of Berkeley Studio and broadcasted Spirit Connection.

See 2009.090AV/1-39 for Canadian Interfaith Network and Vision TV programming.

See 1997.011AV/1-7 for recordings of 11 June 1984 Board Meeting.

Nancy Edwards joined the Department of Radio and Television of the Board of Information and Stewardship as an Assistant to the Director in 1956, and until her retirement in 1980 held various positions (subsequently in the Departments of Broadcasting and Media Services) relating to radio production. During her involvement with the Departments she hosted two radio shows, "Nancy Edwards Reports" and "The Human Gamut," which were short broadcasts featuring interviews with people of varied backgrounds, the sole topic being the interaction of people with the world around them. In addition, Edwards participated in several media organizations, especially those concerned with women in the media.

Subseries contains Nancy Edwards' correspondence relating to her programming, reports and miscellanea. Also included are program materials and production files relating to the Nancy Edwards Reports and The Human Gamut.

See Series 12 Department of Broadcasting series for predecessor files.

The Nancy Edwards Reports

The Nancy Edwards Reports was a short daily radio programme produced by Berkeley Studios and distributed by Interchurch Broadcasting. The purpose of the show was to promote awareness of ideas and issues of relevance to families, education, religion and society, through the use of interviews with experts interspersed with the host's questions and concluding comments. At its height in the early 1970s it was heard on over 100 radio stations across Canada. The show was produced by Peter Flemington and ran from 1966-1975.

Arranged by program numbers "PN" and chronologically.

The Human Gamut

Human Gamut was a weekly half-hour radio broadcast hosted by Nancy Edwards where she interviewed people on leading issues of the day. It ran from 1976 until 1980 when Edwards retired from broadcasting. The programme was sponsored by Interchurch Broadcasting and produced at Berkeley Studio.

Information on the media boxes typically identifies a creation date, an associated individual and sometimes a programme title. Unfortunately there are no indications of broadcast dates, or program numbers correlating to interviews. This may be because the taped interviews were often spliced and recycled for appropriate programs. Programs also used more than one tape (i.e. the subjects were interviewed separately or on different dates) and are identified by markings on the boxes and reels. Consequently the tapes have informational value but not informational value as pertaining to the full run of 'The Human Gamut'. For accessibility the tapes have been assigned programme numbers utilizing the program runner's notes.

A second aspect of the program was the 'Postscript', a shorter segment usually on a completely different topic (see entry for programme 2-27 for an example). Postscripts are noted in the descriptions with the associated program. Some programs contain audio cassettes that recorded the whole show including the main program and postscript. Audio cassettes are identified in the descriptions below.

Scripts contain Nancy Edwards comments during the programme, including introductory remarks, contextual statements, and concluding remarks.

There are several interview tapes where no programme number could be assigned with certainty. This could be for several reasons: poor labelling, the interviews were never used in the broadcast, splicing of programs, and cancelations.

Notes included on whether a program was re-aired and when.

SERIES 13\Subseries 7: Records of the Audio/Visual Production Unit. -- 1962-1989. --ca. 3.3 m of textual records; --235 audio cassettes; --390 audio reels. --5 photographs.

Audio/Video Production became a unit within the Department of Media Services in 1976, with Betty Richardson as producer. The Unit produced mostly audio cassettes. Responsibilities included recording of General Councils, Divisional meetings, and special events, and production of materials in response to programmes of the several Church Divisions, as well as maintaining an active library. In particular it produced "Godshow," an ecumenical radio magazine show, "Make My Day" which succeeded Godshow, and "Inside Track," an information series on audio cassette for the order of ministry, and it also publishes Visual Catalogue, which lists the holdings of its library.

Subseries contains administrative files, production files and files pertaining to Godshow, Make My Day and Inside Track 1962-1989.

For preceding records see Series 12 Department of Broadcasting and Series 11 Department of Audio Visual Resources and Development.

Please note that av material transferred to Archives was not always labelled by the associated Division of Communication Unit. That said please see Subseries 3 Berkeley Studios for some av material most likely associated with the Audio/Video Production unit.

See 1990.005AV/1-44 for 32nd General Council 1988 audio cassettes.

See 1990.006AV/1-40 for 31st General Council 1986 audio cassettes and audio reel.

Godshow

Godshow was a weekly twenty-minute radio programme produced by Religious Television Associates, the co-operating Broadcasting Units of the Anglican, Baptist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and United Churches. It was produced at Berkeley Studio, and initially broadcast on radio stations in Toronto and Ottawa, before spreading to stations across the country. Godshow was a news and public affairs programme "with a religious dimension" but was not a "mouthpiece for the churches" according to promotional material. The original producer was Dorothy Forbes and she was replaced by Peter Reynolds in 1982. Des McCalmont of the United Church was the executive producer (with Earl Leard substituting when necessary). The on-air personality was John Archibald, who was subsequently replaced by Philip Prince.

See 1994.100P/1-2 for photographs re Godshow.

See 94.100AV/1-231 for Godshow audio reels.

Make My Day!

Make My Day! was a radio programme produced by Interfaith Communications a successor to Religious Television Associates in the radio field. The programme grew out of Godshow, and used the same producer Peter Reynolds and staff. The programme consisted of ninety-second editorial comments by guests on a public issue: the signature of the programme was the opening sentence, "It would make my day if...". The programme was on the air for a little over a year before funding shortfalls brought about its demise.

The series consists of audio tape reels, cue sheets and production documents 1987-1988. Production files include correspondence with radio stations regarding placement of the programme, correspondence with print outlets when the producers attempted to produce a print version of the programme, promotional material, transcripts of some commentaries, financial documents, and minutes of the Interfaith Communications committee responsible for the show.

For master audio reels for Units 1-46, 48, 50-53, 55-59, 61-72, BN material and promotional material see 98.025AV/1-76.

Inside Track

Inside Track was an audio cassette-distribution programme produced and hosted by Betty Richardson, and provided information and news to subscribers (largely ministers) concerning activities, appointments and projects of the United Church as well as material regarding social, political and international issues. The show was produced monthly at Berkeley Studios and combined Betty Richardson's commentary with taped comments from experts and clips produced elsewhere.

Series consists of a full run (save Inside Track #73) of audio tapes and reels of the program as well as scripts with accompanying background material. Also included are files relating to production, distribution and subscription to the program 1973-1979. Series is arranged by program numbers "PN" and chronologically.

See Appendix D for lists of Inside Track cassettes No. 75-122 for detailed descriptions.

SERIES 13\Subseries 8: Records of the Still Pictures Unit. –1956-1990. –ca. 2 m of textual records. 1087 photographs and negatives; --16 photo albums; –265 film reels; –9 vinyl records; –189 audio tapes; –15 audio reels.

Still pictures were originally the responsibility of the Audio-Visual Department within the Board of Information and Stewardship (created 1954). The programme was continued by the Division of Communication's Audio Visual Department prior to 1973 and then by the Department of Media Services/Media Resources Still Picture Unit. The Unit, housed at Berkeley Studios, was involved in the collection and production of photographs, slides, and film strips. Like most of the other units in Media Resources, Still Pictures existed largely to serve the needs of other Divisions as well as Conferences and Pastoral Charges, maintaining a library of materials. These filmstrips produced were created for educational purposes on behalf of departments and divisions of the Church, especially the Division of Mission in Canada, and the Division of World Outreach, and their antecedent bodies. They were also used for fund-raising awareness within the church.

Subseries consists of the following files: administrations, correspondence, photo collections, production lists, general production files, film strips and slides production files, presentation slides/slide set production files, caption material and filmstrip kits and production files.

For preceding records see Series 11 Department of Audio Visual Resources and Development

RECORDS RELATING TO WEBSITE MANGEMENT

UNITED CHURCH OF CANADA

Accession Number 2013.112C
Accession Number 2018.158C

SERIES 14: RECORDS RELATING TO WEBSITE MANAGMENT. –1997-2013. –ca. 52 cm of textual material.

The position of Website Manager was established 1998 under the Divisions' General Secretary's Office Planning and Administration. The role was created to help establish the United Church website. In 1999 the role became its own entity separate from the above office and after 2002 additional staff were involved including a Web Production Specialist, Web Designer, Web Producer, Web Developer, Web Content Strategist, and Digital Camera Strategist. From creating the United Church's website the work evolved in all website creation for all General Council work. The staff managed day to activities involving the websites as well as the contributing to the vision and formation of the sites. The Website Manager is also responsible for the IT Steering Group which oversees the Church's statistics and as well as social media.

Series contains one subseries: 1) Records of the Web Services Manager, 1997-2013.

Further accruals expected.

SERIES 19\Subseries 1: Records of the Web Services Manager. –1997-2013. --ca. 52 cm of textual material.

Subseries contains the records of Web Services Manager Bill Gillard and include screen shots of web pages that are not archived electronically 1997-2013.
